

Open Your Ears to Science

Fraunhofer IIS is looking for testers with impaired hearing ability

Do you suffer from light to moderate hearing impairments, for example, due to accidents, illnesses, or simply aging? Are you familiar with the phenomenon that you have to turn up the volume of your TV during your favorite crime series to be able to follow the dialogue amidst sound effects and music?

Then participate in our hearing tests and support the researchers at Fraunhofer IIS in the development of audio technologies that enable participation for everyone. On-site at the institute or comfortably at home!

Further information at www.iis.fraunhofer.de/listening-test